COP22 – THE EUROPEAN UNION IN ACTION: IMPLEMENTING THE PARIS AGREEMENT IN THE SOUTHERN MEDITERRANEAN

The major part of the future transformation will take place in cities and urban communities. Therefore actions to hold and reverse the climate change have to be implemented at city level under the participation of all relevant stakeholders.

The EU European Neighbourhood Initiative (ENI 2014 -2020) programme seeks to establish peaceful relations based on cooperation with the southern Mediterranean countries.

Among the numerous climate related actions the European Commission is implementing at present there are three major programmes in the ENI South Mediterranean Partner Countries: Algeria, Egypt, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Morocco, Palestine, and Tunisia:

Support for Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation in the ENI South Region – ClimaSouth (2013-2017, budget € 5.0 million)

Cleaner Energy Saving Mediterranean Cities – CES-MED (2012-2017, budget € 6.0 million)
